

The Carson Daily Appeal

CARSON CITY:
Sunday, December 14, 1873.

THEATER TO-MORROW NIGHT.—There are some of our theater-goers who will remember, as we do, with how much of artistic skill and dramatic effect Mr. James A. Herne once performed the highly interesting and difficult role of R. P. Van Winkle at the Carson Theater; and so emphatic and repeated are the encomiums bestowed on him for that performance that there is a very great feeling of interest amongst the many who have never seen him in that part to witness his assumption of the same. We are gratified at being able to announce that on to-morrow night Mr. Herne, supported by a very excellent dramatic company will present his unsurpassed version of that character. Among the actors and actresses who will support Mr. Herne are Miss Alice Vane, Fay Templeton and Harry Constance. Miss Vane, whose performance have elicited unqualified praise in "Gertrude" and elsewhere, will play "Gertrude" and Fay Templeton will come on as "Lorena," Rip's little daughter. There is no play in the whole range of the drama which, in its chief character, combines more signally and effectively, the humorous and pathetic qualities; and it is in the blending of the delicate shades of expression that lie between these two widely divergent and yet kindred characteristics that Mr. Herne wins his high place as a successful competitor with Joe Jefferson. Fay Templeton is reputed to be a very wonderful and charming little lady. We are to be initiated into her specialties to-morrow night in her "Folly Medley." We can do our readers no better than to repeat our customary injunction in view of the coming of a good performance, and advise them to secure seats while they may.

EMPIRE ITEMS.—From Mr. Henry Lebo we learn that there is first-rate skating on the river at Empire; that the wood-drive that we have talked so much about is frozen up in the river this side of Cradlebaugh's bridge; that Empire reckons with the joyful echoes of idle wooers and river-drivers from Alpine and Pine Nut; that John Hansen my Joe John has been taking out from the Carson many tons of clear, sound ice for his use at the Morgan Mill; that the children of Empire are evincing symptoms of insanity in view of their promised Christmas trees; and that there was a race there day before yesterday between a nimble-footed fellow citizen and a horse. Tom Johnson, a Nut Piner, had a horse of the pug variety, and being in a state of exuberant cheerfulness, was bountiful of that animal's prowess as a racer; and at length one Vandershear put in his car and offered to bet $25 that he could beat the plug in a race of 25 yards. They soon made up this race and got ready for the word. "The horse," says Lebo, "was hell on the start;" but somehow he fell down just as he got the word; but he overhauled Mr. Vandershear before he had got to the outcome, and then the fun began. Van, tried to stop the pony but got knocked down for his interference—by the horse—and so he floundered about in the snow and lost his money and the race. The Empires roared and enjoyed the fun, and here and there was a man who accepted an invitation to go and take something on the strength of it.

LOUIS VAN REED, a pioneer of California, died in Los Angeles on the 5th inst. He was well-known in San Francisco and Marysville, and of late years has been living in the State of Nevada, and at Lone Pine, California. He was an uncle of our fellow-townsmen W. A. Van Reed of the Fountain Restaurant. Old Marysvillians will be interested in the statement that this is the Van Reed who was for some years associated in business with James Y. McDuffie.

IN POLICE COURT.—Grason Holyston was hauled up before Judge Witherell yesterday charged with being so disgustingly drowsy, (d. d.) as to be a public eyesore; and, in point of fact, it was shown that Mr. H. had been sleeping the sleep of the inebriated on the public highway. Lucky for him that he was arrested, for he would have frozen, else. He failed to respond to Witherell's invite to put up $15 and was committed.

LOST.—Mr. Saml. Johns gives due notice in an advertisement which finds a place in another column that he has lost a certain order drawn in his favor upon the White's Canyon Flume Company for a certain sum of money; and he describes the said order and cautions the public that the payment of the same has been stopped. See adv.

HON. HENRY WHITEHILL and his bride arrived here yesterday morning from the Eastern world. There are many hearty congratulations and a multitude of warm welcomes in store for Mr. and Mrs. Whitehill. The Appeal begs to offer its compliments to the happy pair.

SERVICES as usual at the Methodist Church. Preaching at 11 a. m. and 7 p. m. by Rev. A. N. Fisher.

PREBYTERIAN CHURCH.—Preaching by Rev. I. N. Hurd of Virginia City at 11 a. m. and 7 p. m. Sabbath School at 12 m.

The Higgins' Auction Sale.

On Monday night, remember, at the Millard place opposite the post office on Carson street Mr. R. L. Higgins will open up his holiday auction sales. This first sale will begin at 7:30 in the evening and continue as long as there are bidders to bid for the beautiful and useful and attractive and marvellously cheap goods which will then and there be offered. There will be a choice assortment of chronos; magnificent sets and single pieces of Bohemian glass and china ware; those delicate fabrics which we used to call "crewels" but which are now known as "zephyrs" and Berlin wool; multifarious and tempting "notions;" all sorts and kinds of musical instruments, stationery, etc., etc. Higgins' stock is already here and will go to the highest bidder.

A MAN TRAP.—That fire cistern which is bounded on the North by the polar star, South by Genoa, East by Dutch Nick's and West by Lake Tahoe and which lies at the intersection of Telegraph and Ormsby streets between the rear corner of the Adams House and the south eastern exposure of Moore & Parker's Hall, was in such a condition yesterday as to invite the suspicion that it might hold in solution, within its vast and cavernous recesses, indefinite numbers of stray and missing Indian children. But without stopping to ascertain if the suspicion be well-grounded, we will proceed to state that the opening to the said cistern is so illy guarded as to be quite perilous to man and beast passing that way. Persons who have used it to furnish themselves with water have not taken the needful pains to keep the cover on, and so much water has been splashed about the opening that a funnel-shaped circle converging there to has been formed around it, preventing the cover from staying on when put there. Now we make two conclusions respecting this matter: First, This maybe it would be unjust in this instance to "give Ned Sweeney hell," as has been suggested to us, and that it would be well if there were an ordinance passed by the town council inhibiting all persons from uncovering the fire cisterns for any other than for the purpose of filling the same or in time of fire. Anyhow this man trap should be abated.

THE ENTERTAINMENT provided for our theater-patrons last night was piquant, light and pleasing, and was enjoyed by an audience but little inferior in point of numbers to those with which Miss Howard was greeted at her two previous performances here. The movement of the next little comedy with which the evening's entertainment began is of the quiet naturalness and freedom from all straining for effect which, naturalized into the modern English drama from the vivacious school of France, partakes of the nature of a drawing room performance and marks with that always welcome bit of fireside comedy "The Morning Call." It is quite enough to say that Miss Howard and Mr. Fytinge played this little piece cleverly and smoothly and to the satisfaction of their auditors. The recitation of "Her Letter" was done with excellent emphasis and taste, and the afterpiece sent the audience home in the best of humor and greatly delighted with the short and eminently successful engagement of Miss May Howard at the Carson Theater. We are among the many who hope that this may not be her last appearance here.

One whose business it has been to perform the delicate and tender functions of a shepherd and in that capacity to act as a clerk of the wether, as it were, was yesterday taken thoughtfully in charge by Mr. Policeman Newhouse and put in the county lock-up. This person's offense was not against any enactment of law but against himself; for in fighting the numerous family of snakes that had taken possession of his boots he was like to hurt himself. He seemed very much disposed as well as exceedingly well adapted to make Rome howl. John very mercifully gave him a "second mate's nip" of whisky now and then just to steady his nerves, but he often lifted up his voice and swore a swear that was far from conservative or after the manner of the catechism.

DOCTOR SHEPPARD, lately associated with Doctor L. A. Herrick in the practice of Homeopathy having received a tempting offer from Andover, Massachusetts has taken his departure hence and started for Andover, night before last. Sheppard is a singularly modest man and somehow never felt quite at home here. We are sorry he has gone and believe he made a mistake in going. Doctor Herrick will continue to practice as heretofore.

KESSEY & WILSON have just put up, on the eastern front of the Ormsby House a very red and gilly stage sign. This attractive piece of sign-making is from the hands of Joe Cowing who does this sort of work with a good deal of taste and skill.

EPISCOPAL CHURCH.—No services today. The Sunday School will be held in the School-house at 12 1/2 o'clock.

Butterick's Paper Patterns and Sheet Music.
